U.S. AIR FORCE

Cadet Third Class Chaney King

She was a lively beautiful 20 year old that was tragically killed in a car accident on January 18, 2003. She loved life, her family, her friends, and the Air Force Academy. What Chaney possessed in her short life was the drive, determination and perseverance to achieve her dream, even when obstacles were in her way.

When she wasn't accepted into the Air Force Academy, she refused to give up her dream and pursued other ways to get in. This was her first contact with the Falcon Foundation. The Foundation awarded Chaney a scholarship to a prep school, which she took full advantage of at Preparatory School.

This resulted in her appointment to the Academy as a member of the class of 2005. As a member of Squadron 13, she served as honor clerk at the time of the accident. She was also a member of the women's lacrosse team and founder of a mentoring/support group for female cadets and female officers. Chaney stated many times that without the Falcon Foundation and Northwestern Prep, she would not have succeeded at USAFA.

The Falcon Foundation is a 501(c)(3), non-profit foundation. Its purpose is to provide scholarships to College or Preparatory Schools for motivated young people seeking admission to USAFA and a career in the Air Force.

Although it is a separate organization, the Falcon Foundation works closely with USAFA.
